The 2013 GymHawks have their sights set on a sixth consecutive NCAA postseason appearance and a spot atop the Big Ten Conference. Coach Larissa Libby believes teamwork, focus and determination will drive her team to success.

"We are short on depth this year, but what we have returning is tremendous," said Libby. "If we can be very smart and efficient, I believe we can be Big Ten Champions, and I will not come off that. That's the intent, and I believe we have the right group to get there. They have been extremely focused on what we represent and though they are all very different, they meet in the middle and focus on the same idea and same process."

The team and staff are well aware of the work ahead and have a solid foundation and winning tradition to pull from. Because of this standard, "Challenge Accepted" is the 2012-13 GymHawk slogan.

"We lost a lot of depth," said Libby. "We've accepted it and are moving forward without excuses. We have taken steps back, but we intend to take even more steps forward."

With six returning letterwinners and seven newcomers, Libby and her squad will rely on experienced leadership from seniors Emma Stevenson, Kaitlynn Urano and Maya Wickus. The senior trio will combine to provide Iowa with the stability and skill every team needs.

Stevenson is coming off a stellar junior season, setting career-bests on three events. She was named to the All-Big Ten Championships team after scoring a 9.875 on the floor exercise.

"Emma loves what she does, but she means business," said Libby. "She knows how to get the best out of herself and is always working to be perfect. She will be our go-to kid and will be the one to hold the team standard. I expect her to be on the top of the Big Ten again."

Urano will also be crucial on three events, especially the balance beam. In 2012, she competed on the beam three times, scoring a career-high 9.725 against Penn State. Urano also contributed to the bar lineup on 12 occasions, earning a career-best 9.850 against Penn State.

"Kaitlynn has worked extremely hard to improve all aspects of her gymnastics, from nutrition and fitness, to work ethic," said Libby. "She understands how pressure-filled the beam lineup can be, and she will be ready to go. Kaitlynn is a very understated, but beautiful gymnast. She's developing into her own person and has the potential to bring in high scores."

Wickus is also essential to the team's success. For the past two seasons, Wickus has anchored the vault lineup. This year, Libby expects Wickus to be a mainstay in the bars and floor lineups as well. In 2012, Wickus won the vault title at Iowa State and competed on the bars twice, marking a career-best of 9.775 at Denver.

"Maya really wants what is in the best interest of the team," said Libby. "She's a phenomenal vaulter and has great skills on the uneven bars. This year, she's working really hard on the things that don't come naturally to her. Maya is the one to make sure that the team is successful at the end of the day. That's a tough role, but you want the seniors in that position."

With no juniors on the roster, the sophomores are held to the upperclassmen standard. The sophomore class includes Emma Willis, Sydney Hoerr and Jessica Morreale.

"Having no juniors is new for us, but it's easier when you have the right kids," Libby said. "The sophomores will be the next leaders of the team. They will be the people who set the precedent for years to come."

The sophomore class will be instrumental this season on the competition floor.

"The majority of our routines will come from this class," said Libby. "All three are more than capable and have the potential to bring in big scores."

Willis competed in the all-around in 13 meets last season, and Libby believes she will be more comfortable in that role the second time around.

"Emma contributed on four events last year, and we're extremely pleased with where she is now. She has big gymnastics skills and though Emma is more reserved, Sydney will push her to be even better."

Libby expects Hoerr to join Willis in the all-around.

"Sydney always had the potential to be an all-around competitor, and now she's more than ready," said Libby. "Sydney loves to be under the gun. She works really hard, but her best skills come out in competition."

Morreale, who is returning from a knee injury, will also be vital to the lineup. "Jessica is making a comeback and will start the year anchoring beam and working on floor," said Libby. "She will be back in the vault lineup, but we're starting slow with her."

Libby's 2013 freshman class includes Opua Calucag, Rachel Chambers, Alie Glover, Adara Griffin, Alyssa Lopez and Caitlin Tanzer.

"The freshman class has a lot of potential," said Libby. "We hope the freshman class will be the support staff and fill in where we have gaps." Libby noted two newcomers that can make significant impacts. She expects Glover and Lopez to join the lineup from the start.

"Glover and Lopez are something special," said Libby. "They just don't know it yet. It's difficult for them to see their potential because they're constantly in the grind, but I think they will be some of the best newcomers in the Big Ten."

With a mix of seasoned competitors and fresh talent, the GymHawks have high expectations for 2013. It will take tremendous effort, but this team has the potential to leave its mark in the Big Ten.

"Consistency is our goal," said Libby. "We need to set the bar high right out of the gate. Ultimately, we want to be Big Ten Champions. Our goal is to be the best in our conference, both athletically, and academically. We've made huge strides, which may not be visible on the outside yet. When we take that floor, the change will be seen."

THE BASICS

Six gymnasts perform on each of the four events: vault, uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercise. The five highest scores per event comprise the cumulative team total. Top teams score above 190 out of a perfect score of 200.

Each routine has a start value of 9.5. In order to reach a maximum start value of 10.0, the gymnast must earn bonus points for difficult skills and combinations. The difficulty of skills are ranked from A-E, with "E" being the most difficult. A "D" skill is worth one-tenth of bonus points, while an "E" element is worth two-tenths of bonus. The gymnast also receives bonus for performing a connection of skills, called combination bonus.

JUDGING

Uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercise are judged with a rating system evaluating each element on the following scale:

- A - basic element
- B - element with partial difficulty
- C - element with higher difficulty
- D - element with very high difficulty
- E - element with highest difficulty

Routines require the following to start from a 9.5 base value: 3 "A" elements, 3 "B" elements, and two "C" elements.

SPECIAL DEDUCTIONS

- * Out of bounds on the floor exercise, -0.1 each time
- * Overtime in balance beam routine (over 90 seconds), -0.2
- * Fall off apparatus, -0.5 each time
- * Wobble on beam, -0.1 to -0.3, depending on degree of wobble
- * An extra step on landing, -0.1
- * Insufficient artistry of presentation, up to -0.3
- * Relaxed posture throughout the exercise, up to -0.2

VAULT

VAULT

Vaulting requires speed, quickness and explosive power. The gymnast is allowed to perform only one vault, with the exception of NCAA Championship vault final qualifications. Vaults have assigned maximum difficulty ranging from 8.6 to 10.0. Deductions are taken for technical errors in four phases: the approach, contact with the vaulting table, height and distance from the table, and the landing. Specific deductions include up to 0.5 for body position faults, 0.1-0.4 for steps on the landing, and up to 0.3 for an off-center landing. Additionally, if the coach assists the athlete at any time during the vault, the athlete will receive a score of 0.0. Some common vaults in collegiate competition include:

Roundoff back handspring, layout.....	9.80 start value
Roundoff back handspring, layout half twist.....	10.0 start value
Roundoff back handspring, layout full twist.....	10.0 start value
Handspring front tuck.....	9.80 start value
Handspring front tuck half twist.....	9.90 start value
Handspring front tuck full twist.....	10.0 start value
Handspring front pike.....	9.90 start value
Tsukahara layout.....	9.80 start value
Tsukahara layout half twist.....	10.0 start value
Tsukahara layout full twist.....	10.0 start value
Roundoff half twist on, front tuck.....	9.90 start value
Roundoff half twist on, front pike.....	10.0 start value

UNEVEN BARS

This event combines the gymnast's strength and agility as the gymnast must maintain a flowing and consistent rhythm. A bar routine must include a mount, two release moves, a directional change, and a dismount. Bonus points are awarded through release moves, dismounts, and performing difficult elements in a series.

BALANCE BEAM

The balance beam is 16 feet long, four feet high, and only four inches wide. Performing on the beam requires precise movement and intense concentration. A beam routine should be between 70 and 90 seconds long and include a tumbling series, a leap series, a mount and a dismount.

Composition Requirements:

- * Full turn
- * Large leap or jump (180 degree split)
- * Acrobatic series with two or more flight skills
- * Dance series
- * Minimum of a "C" level dismount

FLOOR EXERCISE

This is the "glamour" event in women's gymnastics that combines tumbling, dance, and interpretation of music. Floor routines must contain at least two tumbling passes (one with two flips) and a series of two leaps all choreographed to music. Floor exercise has become not only one of the most beautiful of athletic events, but one of the most daring and exciting as well.

Composition Requirements:

- * Dance series with two elements
- * Two tumbling series with one having at least two saltos
- * Three different saltos within the exercise
- * Minimum of "C" level dismount in combination or "D" level skill

HEAD COACH
NINTH SEASON

Entering her ninth year as head coach of the Hawkeyes, Larissa Libby has her eyes set on a sixth consecutive NCAA postseason appearance, the seventh in her tenure.

In 2012, the Hawkeyes finished the season ranked 20th nationally, the highest finish since 2004. Libby coached Tesla Cox to second team All-Big Ten honors and Emma Stevenson to the Big Ten All-Championship Team. The Hawkeyes hosted the Big Ten Championships drawing a season-high attendance figure of 1,661. Stevenson scored a 9.875 on the floor exercise, and Iowa finished seventh as a team. Libby led the Hawkeyes to a fifth-consecutive NCAA postseason appearance. Iowa posted 194,600 and finished fifth at the Seattle Regional.

The Hawkeyes raised the streak to four-straight NCAA appearances in 2011 with a fifth place finish at the Corvallis Regional. This coming after a sixth place finish at the Big Ten Championships, and an overall season record of 11-6. Libby coached three All-Big Ten selections in Rebecca Simbhudas, Houry Gebeshian and Jessa Hansen. Simbhudas and Gebeshian also made individual appearances at the NCAA Championships as Simbhudas was named North Central Region Gymnast of the Year.

Libby led Iowa to a third place finish at the 2010 Big Ten Championships, its best finish in six years. On top of another NCAA Regional berth, Libby also coached Houry Gebeshian to a Big Ten title on beam, just the second in program history. Additionally, Rebecca Simbhudas qualified as an Individual for the NCAA Championships and earned All-American honors on beam.

In 2009, Libby led her squad to a 10-5 record and was named North Central Region Coach of the Year. Under her guidance, the Gymnastics made their second consecutive NCAA Regional appearance and produced two first team All-Big Ten gymnasts in Jennifer Simbhudas and Houry Gebeshian. Additionally, Simbhudas was named Big Ten Gymnast of the Week twice in 2009.

In 2008, Libby Coached the Hawkeyes to their first NCAA appearance since 2005 and a fifth place finish in the Big Ten Conference. In addition to the multiple team and staff honors, Libby also saw several Gymnastics achieve standout seasons during the 2008 season. Jennifer Simbhudas was named first team All-Big-Ten and Big Ten Gymnast of the Week twice. The accomplishments came off of the competitive floor as well. Five Gymnastics were named Academic All-Big Ten and seven were named academic All-Americans.

In 2007, Libby led the Hawkeyes to many individual records. Katie Burke earned career-highs on vault, bars, floor, and in the all-around, ending a highly successful season with an NCAA Championship appearance. Kara Pinjar, Jennifer Simbhudas, and Katie Tarcotte all qualified to NCAA Regional competition. In addition to their NCAA success, Burke earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Pinjar, Tarcotte, and Simbhudas all earned second team honors.

Prior to the 2007 season, Libby played a role in the Hawkeyes' six consecutive seasons of NCAA Regional competition (2000-2005) and coached seniors Liz Grajewski and Kourtney Williamson, as well as junior Danielle Legend to individual regional competition in 2006.

As the Hawkeyes' choreographer and beam coach, Libby has made a lasting impact. The top 10 school records on beam have all been under her guidance, including the school record, 40.425, accomplished in 2004 at Illinois State. In 2004, the GymHawks recorded a 49.0 or higher seven times on beam.

Before becoming head coach, Libby served as associate head coach for one season and assistant coach for the previous three seasons.

Before joining the Hawkeyes, Libby served four years as the assistant women's coach at Louisiana State University, her alma mater. While at LSU, she produced nine beam All-Americans, the top-ranked beam team in 1999 and helped coach LSU to four consecutive NCAA championship team appearances.

As a competitive gymnast in her home country of Canada, Libby burst onto the scene at age 11, quickly becoming a junior national champion and a senior national champion shortly after. A member of the 1987 and 1989 Canadian world championship teams, Libby led the Canadian team to its best-ever sixth-place finish, placing 10th in the world in the all-around and becoming Canada's first ever world vault finalist.

Along with world recognition, Libby was also a member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1988. She has earned over 30 international individual and event medals and was honored as the Canadian Gymnast of the Year in 1990 and 1990. In 2006, Libby was honored for her many national and international accomplishments. The Whitby Sports Council, the hometown where Libby began her outstanding career, selected Libby to be inducted into the Whitby Sports Hall of Fame, an honor bestowed on some of Canada's greatest athletes.

Originally from Pickering, Canada, Libby was a collegiate gymnast at Louisiana State University. She was a four-year team captain and the Central Region bar champion in 1995. Libby graduated from LSU in 1996, with a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology and a minor in French. Her husband, Chad, is the program director of athletic training at Coe College. The couple has two daughters, Taylor and Bailey.

CALEB PHILLIPS
ASSISTANT COACH
FIFTH SEASON

Caleb Phillips is in his fifth season as a Hawkeye assistant coach after spending four years as an assistant at Southern Utah.

Phillips is responsible for the uneven bars squad, which is consistently ranked in the top 20 in the country. In 2012, Phillips coached the bar team to a 49.100 NCAA Regional qualifying score, ranking 13th nationally.

Phillips has helped coach Iowa to four straight NCAA postseason appearances (2009-2012) and in 2011 was named North Central Region Assistant Co-Coach of the Year with former assistant Linac Gavrilin.

The Hawkeyes have received postseason berths every year he has been on staff. Additionally, Phillips has helped coach two gymnasts, Henry Golechian and Rebecca Simbhadia, to an NCAA Championship appearance in the past three seasons.

With the help of Phillips, the Hawkeyes took home third place at the Big Ten Championships in 2010, and Henry Golechian was crowned Big Ten Champion on beam.

Prior to joining the Iowa staff, Phillips helped lead Southern Utah to two NCAA Regional appearances and helped send two competitors to NCAA Championships -- Leah Saldivar in 2005 and Elise Whosler in 2008. Phillips led those athletes to NCAA Regionals in 2006 and four in 2007.

Phillips has a Bachelor's degree in psychology from Southern Utah. He and his wife, Ashley, have two children -- Caleb and Beck.

JACOB LEE*ASSISTANT COACH FIRST SEASON

In his first year as an assistant coach for the University of Iowa women's gymnastics team, Lee serves as the floor exercise and vault coach.

"Jake is very passionate about gymnastics," said Libby. "He has an incredible pedigree behind him. His dad was a U.S. national team coach, and Jacob was an outstanding gymnast himself. His drive to succeed at the highest level combined with his club connections and overall knowledge of the sport will provide an immediate impact on the program. We are very excited to have Jake join the Hawkeye family and look forward to working with him in the years to come."

Lee graduated from the University of Minnesota in 2007 with a degree in applied economics. Lee was a three-time All-American (twice for all-around and once for parallel bars), Big Ten Freshman Gymnast of the Year, Nissan-Emery Award Finalist and was twice named to the All-Big Ten First Team.

"I was a college gymnast myself," said Lee. "I love the atmosphere, I love working with the athletes, and I'm here to make a difference."

For the past four years, Lee served as the education coordinator and team coach for TAGS Gymnastics in Eden Prairie, Minnesota. Both of Lee's parents were gymnasts at Ohio State and coached Missy Marlow to the 1988 Olympic Games. They currently operate their own club, USA Gymnastics World, in Bountiful, Utah.

GETTING TO KNOW EMMA

My first gymnastics memory: When my coach told me to do a front handspring on vault just because he knew I would try anything. I was a first year level five, and I could barely do a regular front handspring, but I didn't land on my head.

Most prized possession: My pictures

Favorite restaurant: Tamarani

Favorite movie: Sherlock Holmes

Favorite TV Show: Friends

Favorite music: Any type of Spanish music

I want to visit: Japan

My Goals for the 2013 season: qualify to NCAA's as a team

Being at Iowa has taught me: To have patience in myself and the value of hard work

Most memorable gymnastics moment: Standing on the podium at the 2012 Big Ten Championships

Pre-meet rituals: Get pumped up by listening to music and visualizing my routines.

2012... Competed in all 13 meets... marked a career best of 9.875 on vault three times... set a career mark of 9.90 on bars against Minnesota... scored a career high of 9.90 on the floor exercise against Penn State, tying for first place... named to the 2012 Big Ten All-Championships Team for her 9.875 floor exercise performance... Academic All-Big Ten honoree.

2011... One of six Hawkeyes to compete in all 14 meets... scored career best of 9.850 in three different meets — tying for second against Iowa State, Northern Illinois and at Southern Utah... posted career mark of 9.825 on vault, earning a share of second place against Wisconsin-Stout... posted career mark of 9.800 on floor twice — tying for fifth against Beaver and sixth versus Iowa State... Academic All-Big Ten selection.

2010... Competed in 13 meets, the most of any freshman... saw first collegiate action at Michigan meet, scoring 9.725 bars... scored a career high of 9.825 on bars against Minnesota... competed on floor in nine events for Iowa... scored a career high of 9.750 on floor in final two meets (Big Ten Championships, NCAA Regionals)... set career mark of 9.525 twice on vault (vs. Southern Utah, at NCAA Regionals).

HONOR SCHOOL... Three-time national qualifier... 2005 Regional bar champion... sixth place in bars at 2008 Nationals... 2008 All-Star Team member... four years High Honor Roll... Spanish Honor Society.

PERSONAL... Born 10/11/90... parents are Paul and Barbara Stevenson... integrative physiology major.

STEVENSON'S BEST

The University of Iowa women's gymnastics team takes great pride in being able to give back to the Iowa City community and participate in various community service activities. In conjunction with several activities, the team selects one major cause to be involved with. For the fourth consecutive year, the Gymnawks put their efforts behind the Ponseti races, with the proceeds going to clubfoot research. The team also helped build a haunted house for local youth. The Gymnawks are always one of the first to jump at an opportunity to help others.

Iowa City is a media saturated environment. With no professional teams in the area, the Hawkeyes garner extensive coverage from newspapers, television and the Internet.

BLOG

A member of the Iowa gymnastics staff offers interactive content live from every event throughout the season via the Official Iowa Gymnastics Blog. This feature gives diehard Hawkeye fans the opportunity to voice their opinion by submitting questions and comments, while receiving up-to-the-minute play-by-play, notes and stats about the meet and Hawkeyes. The live blog begins approximately 15 minutes before each competition and runs throughout the meet.

TELEVISION

With the launch of the Big Ten Network, the Big Ten is the only conference in the country that has its own national network devoted to Big Ten programming. In addition to the Big Ten Network, the Hawkeyes have had meets on CSTV and Mediacom the past couple seasons.

HAWKEYESPORTS.COM

Media and fans can also obtain a wealth of up-to-date information about the Hawkeyes on the official web site of the University of Iowa - hawkeyesports.com. Live stats (gametracker), box scores, play-by-play, photo galleries, coach and bio information, video, podcasts and more can be found on the web site. The gymnastics team also has its own Facebook and Twitter site.

Furthermore, hawkeyesports.com has a fresh look after the site was re-designed and re-launched in October 2018. The new and improved site has enhanced graphics, is easier to navigate, and has more content and video/audio for the diehard Hawkeye fan.

NEWSPAPER COVERAGE

Fans can also read about Hawkeye action in several newspapers/web sites throughout the state of Iowa. A few of the papers that cover the Hawkeyes on a regular basis include: The Des Moines Register, the Iowa City Press-Citizen, the Cedar Rapids Gazette, the Quad City Times, The Daily Iowan, the Voice of The Hawkeyes, the Burlington Hawkeye, the Waterloo Courier, and the Moline Dispatch.

Last season, the Gymnastics appeared on the Big Ten Network on two occasions. Big Ten gymnastics can be seen worldwide in high-definition (HD) on BTN and on BTN.com.

In June 2006, the Big Ten announced the creation of the Big Ten Network, a national network devoted to Big Ten athletic and academic programs. Available on all cable and satellite providers nationwide, with almost all programs offered in stunning high-definition television (HDTV), the network allows fans to see their home teams, regardless of where they live.

The Network currently has agreements with more than 250 affiliates, including AT&T U-Verse, Charter, Comcast, Cox (Cleveland), DirecTV, DISH Network, Insight, Mediacom, Time Warner Cable and Verizon FiOS. Available to approximately 70 million households nationwide, the Big Ten Network is the first nationally distributed network dedicated to covering one of the premier collegiate conferences in the country. With approximately 350 live events, and nearly all of them in high definition, the network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country, allowing them to see their favorite teams, regardless of where they live.

The network operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, showcasing a wide array of classic-to-current sports and televising more Olympic sporting events and women's sports than has ever been aired on any other network.

DR. PATRICIA NICKS AWARD

Named for long-time women's team physician Pat Nicks, who died of cancer in November 1992. The recipient is a student-athlete who has succeeded in overcoming adversity and has shown perseverance and great strength of character.

Mimi Blackledge 1994

GARY BARTA ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Now in his seventh year as director of athletics at the University of Iowa and his 26th year in athletic administration, Gary Barta manages an athletics program that continues to gain momentum in two key areas — on the playing field and in the classroom — while enhancing the infrastructure that will serve as the foundation for future success.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 74 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in 2004-05) ties the best ever posted by UI athletics. That mark was a 13-point increase over the previous year and was nine points above the national average; UI student-athletes will establish another record when the next figures are released in October. Last fall, the NCAA confirmed that all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark for the fourth straight year.

Figures released last fall, Iowa's score of 88 percent in the NCAA's "Graduation Success Rate" or GSR, also matched a school record. Five different women's teams at the UI posted perfect 100 GSR scores. Iowa's GSR in football (83), men's (73) and women's (100) basketball all ranked above the national average for their respective sports.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2011-12. A significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa football team reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competing in a bowl game for the fourth straight year and 10th time in the last 18 seasons. The women's basketball program participated in the NCAA Tournament for a fifth straight season and men's basketball returned to postseason competition under second-year coach Fran McCaffery, recording an 84-75 win over Dayton in front of 13,190 re-energized fans in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The Hawkeye wrestling program, led by national champion Matt McDonough, made another run at a national title before placing third. The men's golf team placed 22nd nationally in its third appearance in the NCAA Championships in the last four seasons. Additionally, the UI men's track and field placed 23rd in the nation and the UI's men's swimming and diving program placed 26th at its national championship.

Iowa's field hockey team advanced to the NCAA Tournament and the Hawkeye softball team placed second in the Big Ten. Between the men's and women's track and field teams, 34 student-athletes competed at the NCAA Championships and 14 members of the UI men's and women's swimming and diving teams qualified for the Olympic Trials.

And, while the UI athletics department continues to earn high marks in integrity, academic excellence, and athletic performances, Barta also continues to oversee critical improvements and additions to the facilities used by the UI's talented student-athletes while maintaining a balanced and ever-growing operations budget that continues to be self-sustaining.

In addition to the competitive success the Hawkeyes recorded in 2011-12, the UI once again experienced tremendous success at the turnstiles. Iowa has sold every seat in historic Kinnick Stadium in each of the past two seasons, ranking 21st in national attendance both years. The UI will enter the 2012 home football season with all seven home games sold out once again and boasts waiting lists for not only season tickets, but also the premium seating options available inside the Paul W. Brechler Press Box.

Attendance at home games of the UI's men's basketball team has climbed more than 30 percent the last two seasons. Iowa's attendance of 13,190 for a first round NIT game in Carver-Hawkeye Arena ranked as the highest attended game of the 2012 tournament.

The UI wrestling team set another national attendance record by averaging 9,014 fans per home meet in 2011-12, leading the nation in attendance for the sixth straight year. The economic impact of the 2012 U.S. Olympic Wrestling Team Trials, hosted by the UI in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, exceeded $5 million, according to survey results released by the Iowa City/Coralville Area Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Attendance at home games of the UI's women's basketball games also remained strong as the program once again ranked among national leaders in 2011-12. The UI also registered increases in attendance at home volleyball, soccer, field hockey, women's gymnastics, men's gymnastics, softball and baseball events.

Since 2006, the Hawkeyes have invested more than $150 million in new and renovated athletic facilities. Upgrades include the restoration of historic Kinnick Stadium and Carver-Hawkeye Arena, as well as a new state-of-the-art aquatics center, a boathouse facility for the UI rowing program and an indoor and outdoor tennis complex. Another $60 million worth of improvements are underway in the form of the two phase football training center project and an indoor golf performance facility.

In late summer 2011, the UI completed a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena. That project included the construction of a practice facility for men's and women's 2012. Phase I includes the new indoor practice facility for Coach Kirk Ferentz' program that has competed on 10 bowl games over the past 11 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football. It will be constructed adjacent to the Ron and Margaret Kenyon Outdoor Practice Facility, immediately west of Kinnick Stadium and will be connected to the new indoor practice facility.

The 2010-11 season marked the first for the men's and women's swimming and diving teams in the UI's $60 million Campus Recreation and Wellness Center. The Hawkeyes hosted the 2012 Big Ten Championships and the UI men's squad responded by earning its highest Big Ten finish in 15

Another of the latest additions to the facilities available to the UI's student-athletes is the Varsity Golf Complex practice facility for the men's and women's golf programs. Located at the southern edge of the UI's award-winning Finkbine Golf Course, the facility is expected to be completed for use this winter. It will provide the Hawkeyes a state-of-the-art facility that offers the opportunity for year-round training and practice.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the President's Cabinet, comprised of vice-presidents and other campus leaders, that provide counsel to UI President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental in the UI's response to record-setting flooding that beset the campus and the Iowa City and Corvallis community in June 2008.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level. During his first six years at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's postseason bowl game agreements that were successfully implemented in 2010.

Nationally, Barta remains active in the Division IA Athletics Directors Association, the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA Football Committee Board of Directors.

Barta often suggests to his staff that "Hope is not a strategy," which is why he is currently overseeing a comprehensive review of the strategic plan for the UI Athletics Department and has worked with the UI's leadership on a long-term financial plan.

Another favorite saying of his is, "Vision without resources is irrelevant." Over the course of his career, he has been directly involved in raising hundreds of millions of dollars in support of intercollegiate athletics. This has remained a primary focus during his tenure at Iowa, where private support for the Hawkeyes continues to flourish despite a challenging economy.

Under Barta's leadership — and thanks to a talented athletics development staff — the UI has seen year-over-year improvement in annual giving in spite of the difficult economic environment. In addition, under Barta's direction, the UI generated more than $20 million of philanthropic and corporate sponsorship support for the revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena and has already surpassed that level of support for the current football projects.

The UI also generated the $2 million in private support necessary to fully fund the Hawkeyes' indoor practice facility for its men's and women's golf programs.

As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state funds.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he worked closely with the President for the Student-Athlete, was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities, including Bank of America Arena and the Husky Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external relations division, a task that included securing memoranda of understanding and contracts.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaches and staff, and the day-to-day oversight of several Huskie sport teams. The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from SDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for three football seasons that won the Division II NCAA National Championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (14) and a daughter, Madison (10), both born in 1993, in Minneapolis.

IOWA CONTINUES TO BUILD FOR SUCCESS

The UI Department of Athletics is under the direction of Gary Barta and is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation. Once again, the Hawkeyes enjoyed success both athletically and academically in 2011-12.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 74 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in 2004-05) ties the best ever posted by UI athletics. That mark was a 13-point increase over the previous year and was nine points above the national average; UI student-athletes will establish another record when the latest figures are released in October. Last fall, the NCAA confirmed that all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark for the fourth straight year.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2011-12. A significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa football team reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competed in a bowl game for the fourth straight year and 16th time in the last 11 seasons. The women's basketball program participated in the NCAA Tournament for a fifth straight season and men's basketball returned to postseason competition under second-year coach Fran McCaffery.

In late summer 2011, the UI completed a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena. That project included the construction of a practice facility for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, a 10,000-square-foot strength training and cardiovascular center, and an expansion to the Dan Gable Wrestling Complex. In addition to new locker room and support facilities for men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs, and office space for the majority of Iowa administrative and coaching staffs.

Phase I of a two-phase project for the UI football program was completed in August, 2012. Phase I includes the new indoor practice facility for Coach Kirk Ferentz' program that has competed on 10 bowl games over the past 11 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football.

IOWA WRESTLING

The Hawkeye wrestling team — the national attendance leader in each of the last six seasons — continued its dominance on the mat, finishing third at the NCAA Championships. Six Hawkeyes earned All-America accolades in 2012, including two-time national champion Matt McDonough. Iowa has claimed 23 national championships and 34 Big Ten titles in its 102-year history.

IOWA FOOTBALL

Iowa football continued its stellar play, finishing in the upper division of the Big Ten for the 10th time in the last 11 years. The Hawkeyes reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competed in the postseason for the fourth straight year.

IOWA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team won its final eight games of the regular season to finish tied for second in the Big Ten and earn an at-large bid into the NCAA Tournament. Head Coach Lisa Bluder has now led Iowa to five-straight NCAA Tournament appearances.

IOWA MEN'S TRACK AND FIELD

The men's track and field team recorded a pair of top 25 finishes at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships. The Hawkeyes crowned four Big Ten champions and nine All-Americans, including Erik Seminski, who placed second in the 800 meters at the NCAA Championships.

IOWA MEN'S GOLF

Head coach Mark Henders led the Hawkeyes to their third NCAA Championships appearance in the last four years. Iowa collected another top-25 national finish and multiple individuals earned honors throughout the season.

IOWA MEN'S BASKETBALL

Second-year head coach Fran McCaffery led the Hawkeyes to 10 wins and an NIT bid a year ago. Iowa improved by seven wins from 2011 to 2012, as McCaffery continued to demonstrate his ability to rebuild programs and reenergize the fan base — Iowa's attendance increased for the second straight year and ranked No. 31 nationally.

IOWA SWIMMING AND DIVING

The Iowa men's swimming and diving team posted its best finish in 17 years, placing fifth in the Big Ten and 26th at the NCAA Championships. The Hawkeye won a pair of Big Ten relay titles and five student-athletes went on to garner honorable mention All-America accolades. On the women's team, freshman Betsy Staughton became the first UI swimmer to earn Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, and she was the first Hawkeye women's swimmer to earn All-America honors since 2005.

With over 30,000 students in a city of roughly 75,000, UI offers a different atmosphere than many other universities in the Big Ten or the Midwest

The unemployment rate in Iowa City (4 %) ranks among the nation's lowest (May, 2012)

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 180 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides on-campus and distance-learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, the University of Iowa is also a leader in space physics, hydraulics, basic health and science research. In communication studies, the University of Iowa is also a leader in research in information science, simulation technology, and other fields.

The University of Iowa has reinforced its tradition as an innovator in research and work in speech pathology, science and medicine. The University is nationally recognized for being home of one of the nation's largest university-owned hospitals.

CULTURAL DIVERSITY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all races, creeds, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. In the past five years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Asian American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Enrichment is a coordinated university-wide resource for creating and maintaining this campus diversity and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs brings together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus. International students at the University of Iowa represent more than 100 countries.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on game day when nearly 16,000 Hawkeye fans from across the state and Midwest converge on Carver-Hawkeye Arena to cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, serendipitous spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake Macbride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

"If there is a star in Iowa, Iowa City is it."

No. 13 "Top College Towns for Jobs"
—Forbes Magazine, May 2009

Johnson County is ranked third nationally in the "Fourth Economy Index," April, 2012

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge. The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

STUDENT-ORIENTED NIGHT LIFE

Iowa's campus is set right in the city's downtown area, where you'll find dance clubs, movies, coffeehouses, and restaurants to suit every taste. Live music can be found any night of the week in clubs and restaurants, even outside on warm evenings on the downtown pedestrian mall. Iowa City businesses are convenient and geared toward student tastes and needs.

CONSIDER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR A QUALITY EDUCATION

A quality education is one of the highest priorities at the University of Iowa. In fact, 95 percent of Johnson County residents have graduated from high school, and nearly half of all residents have earned bachelor's degrees. In fact, Johnson County is the 10th "smartest" county in the nation, based on holding bachelor's degrees.

The University of Iowa represents a strong presence in the community and a high quality of life in Iowa City.

Your aspiration may be a career in medicine, law or education. No matter what your career field, it's important to identify the gymnastics program that best fits your needs on academics and allows you to take full advantage of the many opportunities available.

At the University of Iowa, student-athletes learn quickly that academics are a top priority.

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

At The University of Iowa, a strong relationship has been developed between athletics and academics, where coaches and athletes work hand-in-hand with academic deans and professors, assuring the student-athlete the best possible experience in and out of the classroom and in athletics.

From the first visit for any prospective student-athlete, to the completion of their academic and athletic career at Iowa, academic personnel play a large role in the career of every student-athlete. Beginning with the on-campus visit, student-athletes are introduced to professors in their selected field of study, and are able to establish a relationship and develop an understanding of the academic setting in which they will be involved.

THE RUSSELL AND ANN GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

The University of Iowa Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center opened in the fall of 2003. The Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000-square foot facility, which provides one all-purpose area for the academic pursuits for Iowa's male and female student-athletes. The facility is centrally located on the UI campus for easy access by all student-athletes and staff.

The Learning Center features an auditorium, two classrooms, study lounges for freshmen and upper-class student-athletes, a computer lab, a teaching lab, the athletic library, office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

When a student-athlete considers her future, she should consider prospects beyond gymnastics. She should consider where she wants to be five, ten, fifteen years from today, and the best course of action for getting there. Also, she should decide early on to commit to excellence in every challenge undertaken.

Without a doubt, the men and women listed here took time to consider their future and the ways to get there. These former University of Iowa undergraduates have gone on to become leaders in their chosen fields.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye, was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.
